The Dept. Of Agriculture

The United States Department of Agriculture (USDA), also known as the Agriculture Department, is the U.S. federal executive department responsible for developing and executing federal laws related to farming, agriculture, forestry, and food. It aims to meet the needs of farmers and ranchers, promote agricultural trade and production, work to assure food safety, protect natural resources, foster rural communities and end hunger in the United States and internationally.

What We Want:

1. Immediate mandatory labeling of all GMO foods.

2. An immediate end to the production of GMO foods.

3. An immediate end to discrimination against minority farmers.

4. Financial reimbursement to minority farmers as a result of systemic discrimination.

5. A new hiring process which more realistically reflects the makeup of the American people along racial lines within the Department of Agriculture.
