

Africa at Heart

This is the Big One!

Through Africa at Heart, we will not only to connect Black America with people of African descent all around the world, but we will be there for them as well. In time of need, as well as to meet and greet.

This is something that is long overdue. If we are the 13th, 14th or whatever richest country when taking into account our income, then let's do something good with it. This will be by far one of the most promising and gratifying strategies we enact.

We will connect with our people in Africa, Australia, Brazil, The Caribbean, Haiti, Jamaica, Puerto Rico, Venezuela and anywhere our people can be found. This should be natural for us and going forward it will be. There will be no more Hurricane Katrina's or Hurricane Maria without us to be there for them. They need to know that we are here. They are waiting for us. It's time we knock on their door!

We will reveal more on this strategy in the near future. Stay with us!
